Java Notepad is a simple-to-use word processor developed in Java that resembles Windows Notepad, as the name implies. It comes packed with a standard set of options for writing text and reserves some advanced functions for more experienced users. Screenshots: Review Taken in Notepad and Reviewed by user on 02/07/2012 I'm referring to the version 2.0; 'Java Notepad' What I like: The program is easy to operate. It's easy to install and install quickly. It's easy to use, and no downloading needed. It keeps the clean. I found that it has good performance. It's pretty easy to edit and update. What I don't like: For a minute, I was very dissatisfied. I was thinking that it's not like it should be. After thinking about it, I realized that I have seen more and more people using J-Calc. Also, I found that there is a version 2.0 of it. Once I installed it, I found out that it's a clone of the same program. Just that, it is a little different, in terms of its features, the look, and the shortcut, just like some of the programs that I used. You could simply make it in the settings to look like most of the Windows program. But, in general, it's the same thing. So, I would recommend it. Review There are currently no reviews for this product. Java Notepad Editor by Java Notepad Editor on 09/22/2012 I liked that is can use to writing notes on the internet the best. I also like the price because it is very cheap. Thank you for making it. Is Now Available in 3 Lo que más me gusta: Tekst by ikku on 10/11/2012 This is a test. Lets see if it works. Re: one by lotus lab on 10/11/2012 I like the name 'Notepad'. It has always been my word processor of choice. The fact that it is downloadable from the internet is a pleasant surprise. I think that this is the very first time that I have ever installed a software off the internet. The function of undo and redo is not too bad. You can undo up to 10 times,

Advanced programs of the same genre include Notepad++, which has a bit more options and features. It is possible to edit many files simultaneously and batch-process the changes. No installation required Working with Notepad++ is a simple process as it does not have an installer and no setup or installation is needed on the target PC. You only need to unzip the archive with a familiar ZIP tool. Able to handle many files The program supports Windows NT/2000/XP/Vista/7/8/8.1/10 with the notorious limit of 2GB file size. Once the update mechanism is activated, it creates new version files in the Documents folder. Clean and fast interface Similar to the rest of the Notepad++ applications, the interface consists of two main windows: the upper one for performing operations while the lower one for writing files. The tool can be set to open and save the files in the new format, it supports many languages, allows for the search and replacement of text, creates backups of all open files and keeps a log of the changes. Support for extension The powerful program supports text extension, for example, even with.swf,.bat and other files on the Internet. To fully utilize its advantages, you need to install the necessary program plugins. Worth taking into account is that the Windows registry and Start menu do not get updated with new entries, and no extra files are created on the disk without your permission, thus leaving it clean after program removal. Java Notepad Download(Pocket-lint) - Thunder Air is holding the world's first commercial flight to a floating airport, built on open water in Brest, France. The airport, built into the water by French shipyard Les Machines de L'Océan (Ocean Machines), is the first in the world to operate above the surface of the water. Thunder Air says that passengers will be allowed to take to the air by a helicopter that flies them over the site and to the landing pad. According to the promotional video, the speed of flight will be around 45 miles per hour. "That's the critical speed, you cannot fly at less than that speed, you must have the wind, you have to have sufficient altitude," said Thunder Air chief executive Fabrice Brégier in the film. To gain enough speed for takeoff, the Thunder Air chopper will hover overhead the craft as it lands. "The helicopter stays with you, you
