Williams It's a mixed bag of trials and unusual circumstances that got Greg H. Williams into the film business. Years of writing, shooting and editing film for film festivals led him to a career in documentary filmmaking. His debut feature, "Fo' Sho'," is nominated for an Academy Award® in the Documentary Short Subject category. The movie chronicles the lives of single mother-to-be, Shameeka (Kerry Washington), who finds herself pregnant again, against her daughter's wishes. The power of the moving documentary comes through the voice of the audience. You know him best from his plays and his work as a screenwriter. Williams played the lead role in "Rose Hill," which was awarded a 2009 Dramalogue from Christopher's Price Foundation. He is currently working on his first feature, "A Choice of Weapons," about changes in the black community during the second half of the 20th century. Williams is scheduled to accept his award at the Kodak Theater in Hollywood at 6 p.m. Saturday, March 28. 1 / 5 0 4 W h a t i s p r o b o f s e q u e n c e h I I I w h e n f o u r I d0c515b9f4
