Yeah, however I still doubt we'll see any actual upgrades in the CPU over what came out of China last year. That's something being passed over by the masses. I'd love an 8 core monster in my new build but from my experience I'm betting on a single 15 watt Sandy Bridge at best. There was a rumor about a new Sandy that'd boost performance by 50% (i.e. i7 2600K -> i7 2700K) but as there's no official word the likelihood of that happening seems fairly bleak. More likely an overclocked i5 2500K. I'd love an 8 core monster in my new build but from my experience I'm betting on a single 15 watt Sandy Bridge at best.
