Kaspersky Internet Security for Mac, developed by Kaspersky Lab, offers detailed protection for the Mac platform and is one of the best choices for protection from web-based threats. The version 6.4 update comes with new features. The program is mainly focused on protecting individuals and small businesses against cyber attacks by keeping any malicious software out of the Mac environment. The program uses the latest state-of-the-art technology to detect potential threats. In addition to keeping Macs from being used to attack others, the program also blocks malicious files and URLs from entering the system. Kaspersky Internet Security for Mac has a wide range of tools, including password generator, social protection, and clean up of cookies. The program displays contextual and a full-screen alerts, notifies users of any potentially dangerous updates, and provides individualized recommendations for dealing with problematic updates. Mac users can disable the program's warnings by choosing one of the four blocking modes (for example, only warnings from a particular source, for a particular application, and so on). The program can help users restrict access to malicious websites. The program uses Kaspersky Lists to block known malicious and unwanted URLs from accessing the system. There are various lists of URLs, including well-known malware lists, and lists of pornography websites, and guides. In addition to preventing the execution of dangerous documents, the program can help users to find out whether an email is spam, or to filter out spam email messages. The program also allows users to search for files on the local computer by specific criteria, including file names and file contents. The program comes with an interface that is fast and easy to navigate. A single program is not enough to protect Macs and computers from all dangers.

Kaspersky Internet Security provides a large number of additional features that include parental control, content filtering, cleanup of cookies and temporary files, basic security, secure search, removal of malicious programs and plug-ins, and much more. Kaspersky Internet Security for Mac is one of the most popular anti-spyware and anti-virus programs designed specifically for Mac users. The program is also compatible with Mac OS X versions 10.5 and newer. Kaspersky Internet Security for Mac is easy to install and use, and it will help you to keep your Mac safe and secure. In addition, it can easily be updated to ensure maximum protection. Kaspersky Internet Security for Mac

Total Privacy Download [Mac/Win]

Total Privacy is a small program that was designed to clean up all tracks of the Internet and system activities. The app has a simple interface that should be easy to figure out by all users. The app can perform a wide range of tasks, helping you to detect and remove all the sensitive data. For instance, it can clean the browser's cache, cookies, web forms data, entries in the recent documents history log, recent applications history, as well as temporary files and the recycle bin. When deleting this type of data, the program can perform the wipe with various methods. The app comes with multiple algorithms that can be used to permanently delete data. Thus, it may overwrite all data in a certain number of passes, making it unrecoverable. Total Privacy conforms to multiple standards, including DoD 5200.28, Gutmann, U.S. Army, U.S. Navy and more. The app can use the same tools to wipe the free space of any remnants from non-secure deleted files or those left behind after a disk format. You may also manage the list of programs that start up automatically and use the password generator to create safe keys. All in all, Total Privacy is a nice tool that can be very helpful to have installed on the computer. Less experienced individuals should find the app easy to handle, thanks to the intuitive layout and its overall simplicity.

(CNN) The White House announced Friday that US President Donald Trump would not attend the State of the Union address this week. Hours after news of Trump's plan to skip the annual address, which will take place on January 30, 2020, in the US House chamber in Washington, the president's official Twitter account posted a video of Trump speaking at a rally in El Paso, Texas, on Thursday night. "America is a nation of believers in the highest of ideals -- and a great American," Trump said, in an apparent reference to his "Make America Great Again" campaign slogan. "We are people who can change the destiny of our nation and the world," he added. "Not a few of us. Not by a small margin, but many of us. But it can happen." On Friday, White House spokeswoman Sarah Sanders confirmed that Trump will not attend the address. "The President will not attend a State of the Union address when it is being delivered by the opposition party. It has been decided in order for Government to remain fully functional,
