"gbPlot" is developed using the free and open source software library called VRML. This software library is extremely robust and can be used to write any application the user can dream up. gbPlot uses the power of VRML to provide a desktop presentation of the 3D equations you're analyzing. It's very easy to put a 3D plot into your applications desktop wallpaper. Just load the files from the gbPlot folder and view the 3D surface.Q: You are on three websites on every page, redirect with mod_rewrite I am having a problem with redirecting a page when I am on multiple pages. In the htaccess file, I have two RewriteCond statements, like so: RewriteCond %{QUERY_STRING} ^search=submission_categories&submit.=O&submit.=I [NC] RewriteCond %{QUERY_STRING} ^search=available&submit.=O&submit.=I [NC] RewriteRule (.*) [R=301,L] Basically, I am trying to redirect to the same page when users type submit.=O or submit.=I on any page. It works for the first one, but not for the second one. Both should be redirected to the same page. I have tried playing around with the regex without any luck. Thanks A: Try: RewriteEngine on RewriteCond %{QUERY_STRING} ^search=submission_categories&submit.=O&submit.=I [NC] RewriteRule ^$ [R=301,L,NC] RewriteCond %{QUERY_STRING} ^search=available&submit.=O&submit.=I [NC] RewriteRule ~$ [R=301,L,NC] Also, make sure you clear your browser cache and/or cookie files before testing. 1.
