“HyperMotion is a technology revolution for football gaming,” EA Sports FIFA Specialist and Head of FIFA Creative Intelligence, George Ferguson, said. “The power of a ‘God’s eye view’ on football, the new ‘HyperMotion’ technology provides players with an unprecedented level of football intelligence that really shines in the action. Players will see ‘eyes’ on the ball they have never seen before and will be able to make use of it for gameplay.” Ferguson continued: “Fans around the world have been craving to see the hidden angles of the game when they step inside the game for a new experience. Fans have also been asking for more options to control the way the game is played. With HyperMotion they can now do that. Players and coaches will see the game from a completely new angle, with hundreds of familiar and new animations and over 250 new cards that they have never seen before.” FIFA 22 introduces new AI routines that make AI defenders ‘think’ when a player is about to pass into a tight space. With the new AI routines, defenders will now move off the opponent when he is about to pass into a tight space, meaning players can now more easily beat them through the technique. FIFA 22 introduces new passing routines that feature improved weighting on how passing decisions are being made to highlight the impact of individual passing choices on the overall outcome of the game. The new passing routines will affect the nature of the game in unique ways, allowing players to explore new playing patterns. FIFA 22 introduces a new AI 'understanding' system that allows players to use realistic player movements and dynamics to be able to create a more organic and unpredictable match. The new system will read players' body language and actions, respond accordingly and take that into account when deciding how to play the ball. At the same time, a new AI 'self-talk' system will analyse the game and players' actions, and communicate its feelings to the remaining players in the game. This system allows more realistic player conversations. It also ensures players talk in a more natural manner and will respond to players' actions and decisions in a more realistic fashion. FIFA 22 introduces the Official Matchday Technology, which will allow players to create their own customized matchday experience. Players will be able to view their squads, player cards, and all the game's major technical and performance stats

Fifa 22 Features Key:

- Off the ball Intelligence- Based. Powered by motion capture data from real-life footballers, it tracks your player's movement across the pitch, giving you instant insights into what the opposition is up to, spotting where the ball is going and even highlighting areas of your pitch to double-up on.
- All-New Avatars and Faces. FIFA 22 introduces brand-new, detailed, and immersion-level faces and shapes for all your players. We've focused on adding the details that give you a clear distinction between your keeper and long-balls. It helps the visual clarity of the game, giving you instant feedback on where to place your players in front of the goal. You'll also notice a new look on the feet and head of every player. It gives you a new view of what your goalkeepers are trying to do, and it emphasises the power and intricacy of a shot. For your players, the changes are visual overhauls of their bodies in certain crucial areas including their faces and their new shirts with completely reworked shorts and socks. The more you play the mode the more your players' shirts will change to match your style. "Everyday Tactics" feature gives you a new way to get the best out of your team in the moments and situations you need. You'll instantly be notified of using best tactics at the press of a button, with visual cues at the decision point.
- Goal Confusion. Defend the ball at your feet. Feel the atmosphere in the stadium as spectators celebrate a goal while you gamble with your challenge to win the ball back from the defenders and counter-attack.
- Watch Your Opponent. AI Football with revolutionary AI refereeing, using "Off the Ball Intelligence" AI. Super fast reactions in key tactical areas of the pitch, plus a whole new "Off the Ball Intelligence" AI will help you defend in key moments and make better decisions during the game. See why we call them the best in the class. Real-world technology gives you a new kind of football.
- New Team and Club Styles. Over 30 combined team styles to choose from in FIFA 22.
- The youngest player on the pitch is your rookie. You'll make his or her career in your FIFA Ultimate Team.
- FIFA 22 introduces direct transfers from the academy

System Requirements For Fifa 22:

To begin the race, there will be an hour-long tutorial on how to play. We suggest at least 2GB of RAM, 25GB of space on your HDD and a 500 GB SSD for installation. You will also need to download Unreal Engine 4.13. In addition, we recommend the latest version of UE4 when starting. If you are only going to be racing on one track, then we suggest you choose a single-player save, which is the only one available on Steam. If you are installing multiple tracks, then
