Keymacro allows you to quickly create keyboard macros and assign them to any key on your keyboard. You can configure a combination of any key to send an application-defined message. Although not new, keymacro is the best keymacro ever made. It's very easy to use, no manual installation is required and can create some very complex macros. Its usage is similar to that of keypress. However, in addition to the most common software messages, you can also use keymacro to create custom "macro" messages and send them to your applications. For example, you can set keymacro to send a message "c:documents" whenever you press the "C" key. Other features Macro can send any application-defined text to any application Macro can create custom messages Macro can send key press and mouse clicks to any application Macro can send keyboard strokes to any application Macro can be recorded and played back Only send the text specified as part of the message. No longer send parts of the command prompt Macros can be assigned to any combination of keys Compatible with all OS: Windows Vista, Windows XP, Linux, Mac OS X, Solaris, BSD, etc. Features: Works with any application that receives keyboard messages Create custom messages Send key presses and mouse clicks Keystroke recorder Send any application a custom message Filter keys and messages Save and load macros and keys Virtual keyboard support This screensaver uses the following resources: Music: | Ventus| (Ventus) | Suspendiri | (How to make a nature sound for you) Title/Logo: | Watermill 3D Screensaver | (Free) Raindrops 3D Screensaver Description: Raindrops 3D Screensaver is a unique 3D screensaver designed to reproduce the effect of raindrops falling on a lake surface and the water splashing on the surface of the lake.
